

Sardich MC continues active mining of copper ore at the Kazandol mine.

Since the start of operation of the mining complex, more than 400 thousand tons of copper ore have been mined (including blasting), crushed, sorted and placed on the leaching heaps.

In the first quarter of 2018, the construction of the working and accumulation ponds was completed, which are the main facilities making up the complex of solvent extraction.

Construction works at the production complex have been completed. The technological equipment is being installed.
